

Library Wireless Access

Starting on January 3, 2013 the Library Wireless network will require patrons to accept our terms of use before gaining access to the Internet.

1. After connecting to "Library Wireless" a webpage will be displayed with content similar to the image below.

2. After checking the box for "I have read and accept the terms of use", a webpage similar to the one below will be displayed. As soon as the computer receives access, the library's webpage will be displayed.
